Blanche Podhajski and Janna Osman of the Stern Center for Language and Learning Present Sessions at the International Dyslexia Association's Conference on Reading, Literacy, and Learning in Chicago

The Stern Center for Language and Learning's President, Blanche Podhajski Ph.D, and Director of Professional Learning, Janna Osman, M.Ed., presented sessions at the International Dyslexia Association's Reading, Literacy, and Learning Conference recently held in Chicago. The presentations focused on language and literacy development including the Stern Center's BUILDING BLOCKS FOR LITERACY® program, a research-proven program for educators and parents that improves the early literacy skills of children. It can be viewed at www.buildingblocksforliteracy.org.

The non-profit Stern Center for Language and Learning is dedicated to learning for all as we recognize that all great minds don't think alike. The Stern Center helps individuals identify their learning strengths and needs and is dedicated to finding solutions that allow everyone to learn. Through evaluations, instruction, professional learning, and research, children and adults learn about themselves and are better equipped to reach their full potential. Scholarships are available. More information may be found at www.sterncenter.org.
